

Travelers Beware: Ukraine Police Purchase Mustang 'Chase Car'

If you find yourself cruising through the Ukraine in the former Soviet Union, might better keep that radar detector handy.

The newly autonomous republic's motor vehicle inspection division is soon to take delivery of a Ford Mustang LX — which will be used by the local constables to chase down lead-footed drivers.

Ukrainian officials recently purchased the 1993 "slightly used" Mustang for the republic's police force. The car was bought from a Quincy, MA Ford dealer.

The dealership was approached by an import-export company which was looking for a car for Ukraine police use.

The export company found the 1993 Mustang with "a couple of thousand miles on it" at the dealership and made the purchase for the former Soviet state.

The dealership said the Mustang is equipped with power locks and windows, but no air conditioning. Probably doesn't get that hot in the Ukraine anyway.

Sources said the Mustang was chosen because the Ukrainian police have a need for speed, but are working on a tight budget. To purchase a high-performance European car would have cost more rubles than the Ukrainians had in the local treasury.

With its 5.0 liter V8, the Mustang seems assured of being able to catch anything one might find around that Soviet republic, with the possible exception of a MIG23.

Judging Sheets From Nationals Are Available

MCA members who participate in National and Grand National Shows during the season may request their judging sheets following these events.

Owners desiring their judging sheets must send a written request, along with a self-addressed, No. 10 envelope with three first class postage stamps to MCA National Head Judge Ricky Simmons, P.O. Box 387, Demorest, GA 30535.

Please note that you must include your car number and the location of the show in your request to have your judging sheet returned to you.

Judging sheets do not include any names, so your car number is essential if your sheet is to be identified and returned.

All requests for National and Grand National judging sheets must be made within 30 days of the close of the show.

Judging sheets can be helpful in determining what specific areas of your Mustang need improvement to make your entry more competitive.
