

Ken Pracht, president of the Bluegrass Mustang Club in Lexington, Kentucky, is the proud owner of this Meadowlark Yellow 1969 Mach 1. Equipment includes an H-code 351 Windsor power plant coupled with an FMX automatic transmission. As an occasional driver with a mere 46,000 original miles on the odometer, the black Mach 1 interior is in nearly perfect condition. Ken became the pony's second owner in 1992.

The 1990 Limited Edition 5.0 LX convertible and 1990 5.0 LX hatchback featured here are owned by Richard Thomas who is currently stationed on board the USS George Washington. He is the second owner of the Deep Emerald Green convertible and also the second owner of the white hatchback which was originally purchased for his mother. He states that both vehicles are highly pampered.

Central Arkansas Mustangers' president David Green, of Little Rock, Arkansas, is the owner of this Candyapple Red 1966 GT convertible. Equipment includes a 289 4V and C-4 automatic transmission, white Pony Interior, white power top, air conditioning, Styled Steel wheels, engine dress-up kit, deluxe seat belts, and Visibility Group. David has owned the car for approximately six years and recently completed a "Street Driven Occasional"-type restoration. Watch for this beauty at the 1998 Grand National in Franklin, Tennessee.
