Kenny Brown Super Street Cage™

Kenny Brown's latest weapon in the SN-95 Mustang/Cobra chassis support arsenal comes in the form of his critically acclaimed Super Street Cage™.

This cage works as an inner skeleton to reinforce the center and rear sections of the car and provide additional torsional load support directly over the rear axle. This significantly reduces the potential for unwanted power-robbing chassis flex and distortion particularly when used in conjunction with a Kenny Brown Chassis Support System, or the new Extreme Subframe System™.

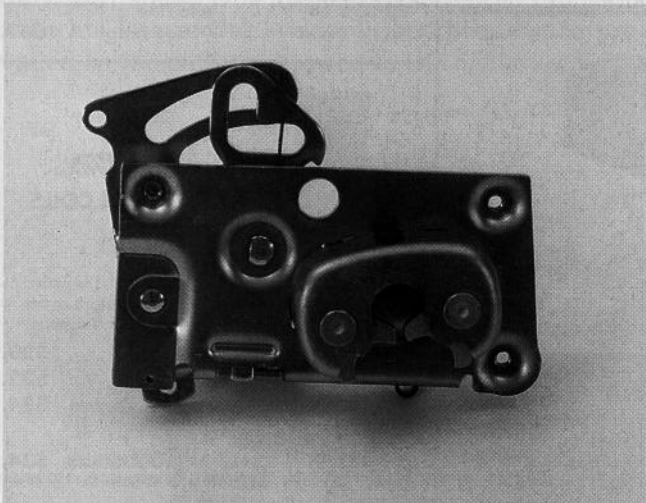

Eight critical points of the chassis are tied together in an attractive and functional design. This adds chassis stiffness and support for superior performance and weight transfer, improving traction, braking, and handling without compromising ingress, egress, or interior occupant/cargo space.

The Super Street Cage™ is engineered for quality, superior functionality, ease of installation and is backed by a lifetime warranty for workmanship and material. It is finished in an attractive, durable high-tech, black wrinkle powder coat finish and comes complete with hardware, instructions plus the renowned Kenny Brown Performance Tech Support. Diagonal and/or horizontal main hoop braces are available as special order options as well as show quality chrome door bars.

Kenny Brown Super Street Cages™ for 1994-98 Mustangs and Cobras, as well as 1987-93 Mustangs and Cobras are available through authorized Kenny Brown Performance Parts dealers or the Kenny Brown Performance Center on Gasoline Alley in Indianapolis, Indiana, (317) 247-5320.

Performance Parts, Inc., is selling the 1995 Cobra R-model unique lower distributor cap.
