Currie Enterprises is the latest company to come on board to assist in supplying parts for Mystical Build. On the way to Classic Creations is the balance of the rear end and the axle. Additionally, at the Utah Grand National, Snake Oyl's Craig Chessley offered his company's assistance!

Specialty Wheels has graciously offered a set of wheels for the '67. Additionally, I've received emails from several MCA member asking for part numbers on specific parts

I've listed as needed. And, Jake Jarrell has secured paint for the Mystical Build Mustang.

Elizabeth Cofer, MCA BOD and President of the Diablo Mustang Association in Concord, California, sent in a donation from her club. The Derby City Mustang Club sent a letter stating that the Mystical Build was approved for the coming year's club charity and they'd be donating $1,500 to the project. Lori Stanich, President-Elect of the Mid-Florida Mustang Club donated proceeds from a 50/50 drawing held at a recent car show by their club. Additionally, they created fliers giving information about the project, where to send donations and/or parts, and how to contact us to donate time to assist in the actual build. I am so very grateful to each and every person who is helping us meet our goal! Although many have stepped up to meet the challenge set forth by Dick Knight, we still need to raise money to help complete the project.

Bill Birch, 2nd VP of the Mystical Build Foundation, is planning to have an auction on eBay at the end of November or the beginning of December— for a two-week period to assist in raising funds for needed parts, shipping fees, etc.

I contacted Jeff Stalling at GMP to see if they would be willing to donate a model, and true-to-form, GMP sent two models. There are other items such as Grandstand seats to the Daytona 500, an autographed guitar is promised from a leading Country Western Singer (who shall for now remain unnamed), just to mention some of the items.

As you can see, we're not limiting the auction to only automotive-related items. So, here's another opportunity for you to assist in raising funds. If you have any items that you are willing to donate for this eBay auction, please contact me by phone at 863.701.2575, ext. 1, or send an email to me at:

editor@mustangtimes.org.

Once finalized, the details of the auction will be listed on the main page of the MCA website as well as in the December issue. However, the best way to get the final information about the eBay auction will be the website due to time constraints. MT
