FROM THE DRIVER'S SEAT

So I started playing golf about two months ago. How hard could it be, right? I can tell you right now there is not a natural golfer's bone in my body, and my game reflected it. As a matter of fact, I think it was easier for me to recognize standard and metric wrench and bolt sizes. Now there is a talent! One of my co-workers offered to help me with my game. Darrell is a really good golfer, so I jumped at the chance. When I met him at the course, he had his son, David, with him. We three played a round of golf, and my game improved as we went along. By the end, I was actually hitting the ball down the fairway rather than repairing the huge divots I'd been leaving. I was driving, putting, and swinging. I was actually playing golf.

Truth be told, I really enjoyed playing once someone had given me some instruction. And although I did not know David very well, he offered, really, more instruction and help than his dad. When I got home, I told Nancy I was stoked and wanted to play more. When I told her about David helping me, she immediately wanted to know how long he had been playing. My answer kind of shocked her when I said only a few years. He's only 13 years old! Needless to say, she and Christopher had a good laugh wanting to know if I was really sure about this game.

When you stop laughing, the first thing you should ask is "What the heck has this got to do with Mustangs, the Mustang Club of America, and me?" The answer is that we had better start paying attention to young people and the really cool things they are doing, both in life and with Mustangs. Our beloved MCA is graying every day. Just look at my hair, and I'm only 54. I fully expect to get Geritol® as a corporate sponsor, since I'm sure they would consider us a captive audience.

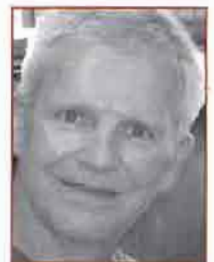

Ladies and gentlemen, things are different than they were in 1976. The MCA is almost 35 years old. Everything—the Mustang itself, the country, the economy—is different. We, the loyal MCA fans and supporters, need to embrace the youth (not just the kids), the changes, and the challenges around us. Don't get mad at me, get moving!

I'm getting numerous e-mails and phone calls about boundaries, about new clubs, about shows and events including racing, auto-cross, and drag racing, questions about membership cost, and about how the MCA is run. I have to admit that I don't know all the answers, but I love the opportunity to help the MCA move into the future. The Board of Directors and I are excited about the opportunities being thrown our way. Ford is on board with us. Just look at the new Mustangs being offered. Other sponsors want to join in as well.

So maybe we are not too old or too gray. Maybe some maturity is showing through. We need to work together. I want to see another 35 years of MCA, and I bet you do as well. Let me hear from you. Tell me what you want out of your MCA. I keep saying it... the MCA should be "the Mustang Place to Be."

I think the store is still open. I wonder which color Just For Men® will go with my 2008 GT?
