FROM THE DRIVER'S SEAT

This is my third Driver's Seat article. The first two introduced you, the membership, to the almost entirely new executive board and the national directors, new and old, serving the Mustang Club of America. I hope you recognized some names and will contact those directors some time in the future. Equally, I hope you looked at some of the names and said "Who the heck is this?". And, I hope you get to know the new directors as well. Every director and executive director will be, or already is, working hard to make MCA the Mustang place to be!

Have you already made your plans for attending the Mustang 45th? Can you believe our Mustangs have been with us for all that time? I'm really not sure if I feel older because I still own a '66 coupe or feel younger with 'an 08 GT in the driveway. Either way, I most certainly am headed for Barber Motorsports Park in April. You should be too!

Steve Prewitt (your new vice-president) put together an astounding group of dedicated workers to develop and build the anniversary event. They have so many things planned. I do what to hint at some of the things available to everyone in attendance. Oh, bring your dancing shoes and your favorite car polish, your gonna need both.

I'll start with a Thursday evening cruise, although in truth, the event will already be many hours old by Thursday evening. Track time, demonstrations, and excitement will fill Thursday's schedule followed by the cruise. The cruise will weave its way into Homewood, Alabama. A street party, complete with a live band (who would listen to a dead band anyway), food, drink, and dancing will take place. What a great way to crank in some excitement!

Friday is the grand opening. Make sure you invite your friends, and maybe some of your not so friends, to come out. There will be Mustangs on track, show cars on display, parts and accessories to buy, and new FORD products to look at and drive. Yeah, those new 2010 Mustangs will be there. Imagine yourself behind the wheel, you can almost smell that new-car flavor. And, I bet if you try hard enough you will find someone to drive you around the track... just so you can say you did it.

Saturday's schedule is pretty much a carbon copy of Friday, except we are all going to be treated to real racing Mustangs, on track, at speed. The FORD Racing Mustang Challenge for the Miller Cup has joined the celebration and you will not be disappointed. And one other addition will be the Dinner with FORD banquet on Saturday evening. Good food, good people, and good stories, I can hardly wait!

OK, so Sunday is the last day but there's no reason to worry. You still have time to have parts installed, purchase decals, shirts, and hats, get pictures taken, etc., etc., etc. and all while taking in the finest Mustangs around. You will still get to see the Challenge Mustangs again plus two exhibitions of vintage race Mustangs and America Iron Mustangs. Sunday may well be the closing day but the fun just keeps on going. Remember, you are most likely leaving with the one you danced with... your Mustang.

I know I've left something out. Maybe because I forgot, maybe because I want to surprise you... who knows. Anyway, this is Mustang overload at its finest! I hope you will be there. Come by and speak, I'll be the one with the stupid grin!
