

1979 INDY 500 PROGRAMS

featuring the
1979 Mustang Pace Car

As the years go by, these rare programs will become even more rare. As Mustang lovers, you will want to add one or more copies to your library today. Already programs from the Indianapolis 500 of years past have become collector's items and the 1979 edition is certain to follow the same tradition.

The original Mustang was the Indy pace car in 1964, so it came as no surprise that the Indianapolis officials chose the 1979 Ford Mustang to pace the field again.

The program contains the complete story of the Ford Motor Company's participation in the 500 mile Hoosier classic in an article on the new pace car. With Ford again promoting their cars through competition activities, every Mustang enthusiast needs this background material on his shelf.

The 1979 Mustang was the 11th Ford Motor Company vehicle to pace "The greatest spectacle in racing." It was the sixth Ford to do so, beginning with the 1935 Ford which paced that year's race.

Only a limited number of programs from the 1979 race are available. When they are sold out, there will be no more! If you are interested in Mustangs, you owe it to yourself to put one on your bookshelf today. Don't put it off and miss out on this fantastic opportunity. Fill out the order form below and send it in today. Order several as they make excellent gifts for your Pony-loving friends. Do it now!
