Glazier's Battery Cables

Glazier's Mustang Barn has submitted for our approval a reproduction battery cable kit for early Mustangs. This kit has a red positive cable and a black negative cable as stated in the judging rules. This product was approved after the Birmingham Dixie National show last year. Also from Glazier's is a set of manifold locks and a new Ford script headlight lamp. These two items are also approved replacement parts for your Mustang. The headlight lamps should be used in pairs, since the judging rules state that they must match.

American Mustang in California has come out with a new reproduction trunk mat and tire cover. These mats are an almost identical match to the originals and are approved for your use. Also from American Mustang is a new convertible top weatherstrip kit which they say is an exact match to the original. This kit consists of four top side rails and one header and is guaranteed to fit. We have not received a sample kit to inspect, so for now we cannot approve this item for your use.

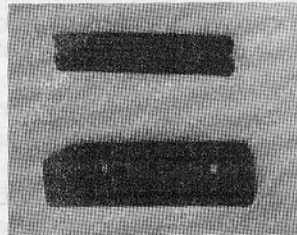

Stang-It in Concord, California has recently come out with the long awaited 1969-1973 Mustang seat covers. They have in stock the 1969 standard, deluxe, luxury comfortweave and Mach I knitted vinyl in all colors. All seat covers for 1970 are also available; however, the cloth covers (Grande and decor group) are available in solid colors only. The 1971-73 seat covers are available in all styles and colors except for dark green and red. These colors should be available very soon. Again,

Mr. G's Pony Door Handle Cup and Insert

the cloth seat covers may be purchased as a complete kit or for the front seats alone. As an example, the 1969 front bucket seat covers in the Mach I knitted vinyl have a suggested price of $210.00. As soon as material samples are received for our approval, we will let you know the decision. These kits are currently available through Tony Branda Performance, Auto Krafters and Mustang Enterprises. Many more of the Mustang parts vendors will probably carry these kits in the near future. For more information contact any of these companies or Stang-It at 2759 Broadmore Ave., Concord, CA 94520.

The farm boy outfit and the big black hat cropped up everywhere from La Mans to Riverside. On various racing circuits around the world Carroll Shelby learned what a car should be... power when you need it, handling when you need it. And he proceeded to build America's first true sports car... the 289 Cobra. Legends are not for resting on. Now, here are the new ones... the sensational 427 Cobra and the road hungry G.T. 350 from Shelby-American.

The Shelby G.T. 350 starts with a Mustang feedback and there the similarity ends. The high performance Ford 289 has been reworked with an aluminum high rise manifold, four valve carburetor and tuned exhaust headers. The result? 305 horses. Completely new front suspension geometry, torque controlled rear axle, the Cobra's Borg Warner gear box (high performance, automatic, optional), front discs and airbrake metallic rear springs deliver responsive handling characteristics. Then add the new quarter panel windows, functional hood and rear fender air scoops, tach, competition seat belts and optional fold-down rear seats. You don't have to go from zero to sixty in 5.7 seconds, but it's nice to know your car.

The Cobras is the perfect sports car. These are strong words but they can be proven. The 427 Ford 427 is fitted out with two four-barrel carbs and delivers 425 horse power. That's a right 425. The result is an acceleration curve that's as close to optimal as you can get. For instance, from 0-60 mph it's a hundred to zero in 3.8 seconds with sport tires. The all-new composite designed frame with independent coil spring suspension is one of the most sophisticated designs on the road today. Arrived and art-istic characteristics are excellent. And as for air taking is concerned... well, those massive dual top scoops will really haul the down from top speeds. If you need not up windows for protection, then forget it.
