Jack Morton of Baton Rouge, Louisiana has big plans for this '67 fastback. He plans to strip the car, sand blast suspension and undercarriage, rebuild complete drive train, and install new chrome, left door, hood, right fender, windshield, and a complete new interior. Send us an AFTER photo, Jack.

Evereste Newton's daughter drove his 1968 convertible from '72 until '84, when he finally traded her his new Camaro so he could have his Mustang back. This 133,000 mile Sunlit Gold 289-2V has been restored to like new condition inside and out. Nugget Gold interior and Parchment top are new. Evereste did all the detailing himself.

HORSE SHOW

The Tackers of Abilene, Texas (Jim, wife Margie, and sons Corey and Wesley) own four Mustangs — all of them 1967's. Base price on this Luxury Convertible was $2,698 but options (over 20 of them) brought the price up to $4,150. One of only 4,848 '67 Luxury Convertibles built, the Tackers' Mustang was a two year FAMILY restoration project. The Tackers have been successful showing their '67, and also enjoy their weekend drives in this Aqua beauty.

Frank "Mac" MacChrystal of Honolulu, Hawaii drives this 1967 convertible daily. The 200 cubic inch six with automatic has over 100,000 miles on it, and Mac plans on getting another 100,000 out of it. An original island car, this '67 has the heater delete option — perfect for the 80°-85° year round weather in Hawaii.
